City leader urges care over Easter holidays

Take a good look at this photo. Your Easter holidays could end the same way.

Altona's mayor, Cr. Harry Weaver, this week appealed to holiday-makers to drive carefully and "do their bit towards cutting the already high road toll".

Cr. Weaver, also urged Altona people to be good ambassadors for their city during the Easter vacation.

He asked that people give some thought to what Easter is all about and not just treat it "as a few more days off from work".

"At the same time, Altona holiday-makers could be good public relations officers for the city," he said.

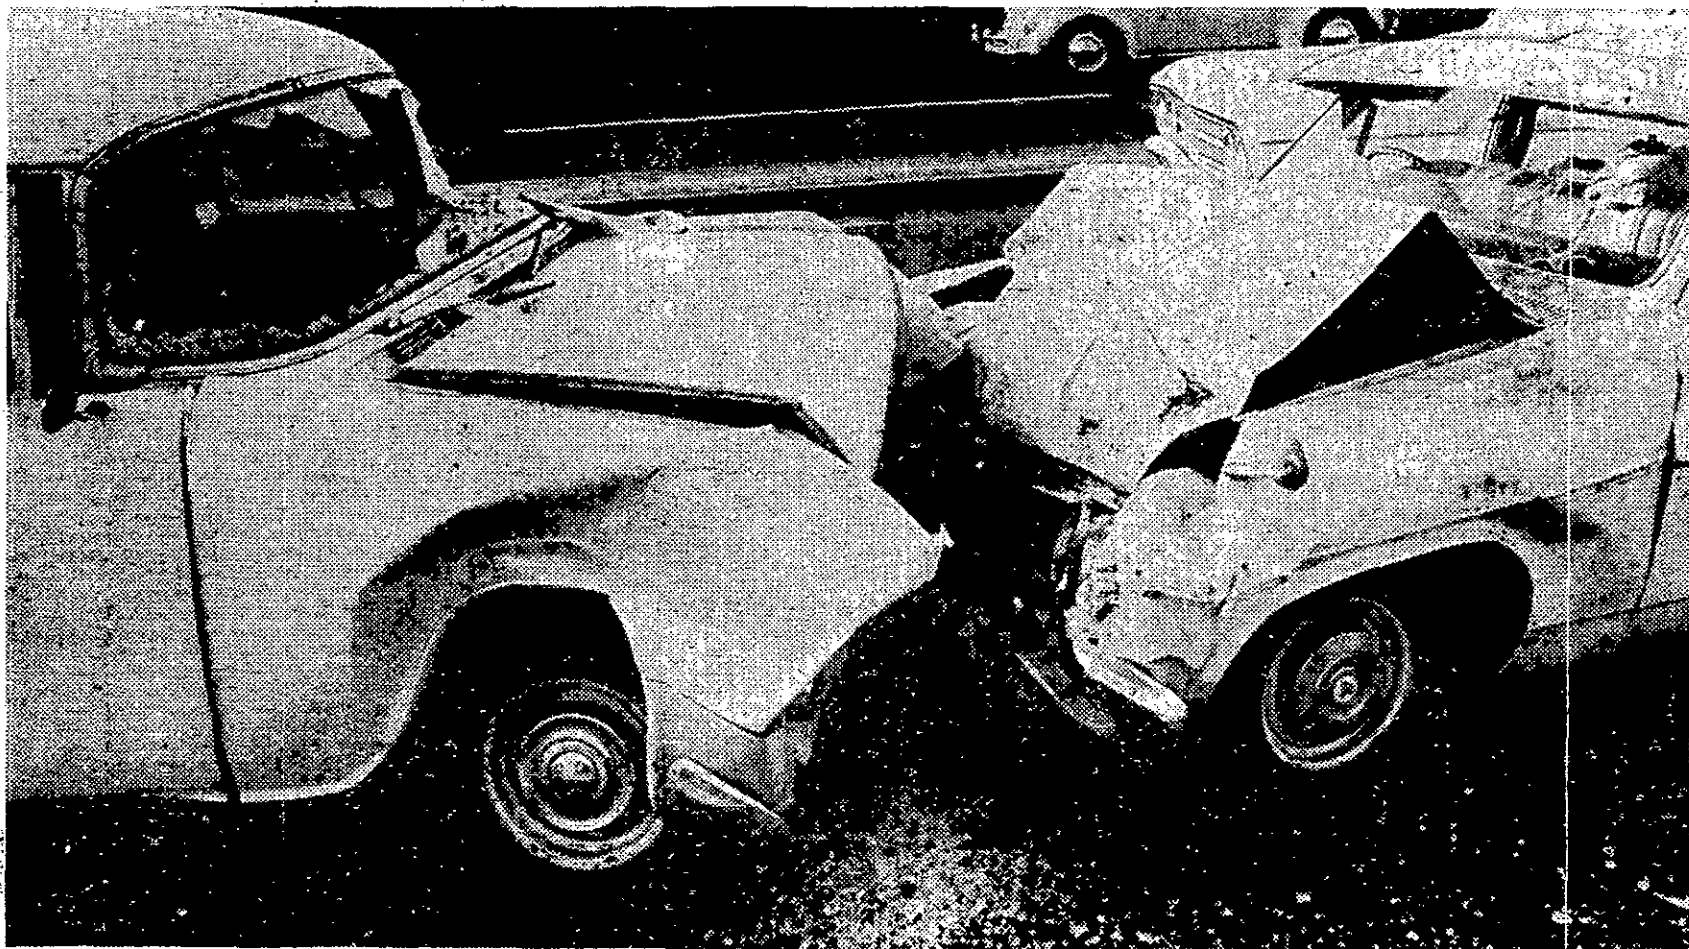

"They could do Altona a lot of good by inviting people they meet and see on their holidays to visit Altona.

"After all, Altona has a lot to be proud of.

On Sunday, we opened the $15,400 extensions to Altona Youth Club, which will accommodate the local branch of St. John Ambulance Brigade."

Guests at the official opening of the extension on Sunday afternoon included Brigade Commissioner, Dr. Judson, Deputy Commissioner, Dr. Busch, Division Superintendent, Mr. Vic Boyce and Superintendent of the Altona RSL sub-division, Mr. Vic. White.

Earlier on Sunday, Altona councillors attended the Anzac march conducted by the Altona RSL sub-branch.

Shop and home deliveries will return to normal on Thursday, April 26.

SOCIAL NIGHT

The Women's Auxiliary of the Sailors' Soldiers' and Airmen's Fathers' Association of Australia, Williamstown Branch will be holding a social get-together in the main hall at supper room at the Town Hall on Friday, April 27.

The Victorian Railways Department was given a tongue-lashing by Cr Bill Sommers at last week's Altona Council meeting, when the lack of toilet facilities at Galvin and Mobiltown stations was discussed.

After being informed that the old toilet building had been removed from Galvin Station, following complaints by Council, Cr. Sommers said, "We now have no toilet facilities at Galvin or Mobiltown."

"It seems that people just have to go elsewhere", he said.

"There is talk about tube railways and many other projects, while out here we haven't even got toilet facilities.

"It's a disgrace to the Railways that the occasion has arisen again — that we have nothing at the two stations.

"Both stations are well used, particularly Mobiltown, where many migrants catch the train.

"I feel we have to write to the railways", Cr. Sommers said.

"For too long we have had to put up with this shuttle service. Having to catch one train to Newport, two stations away and then changing to another train. Maybe we can get one of those silver trains they have on the other side of town.

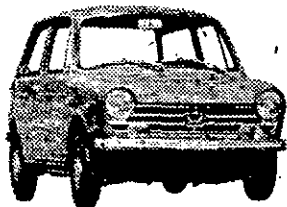

"I'll move that we write to the Transport Minister, Mr. Wilcox and to the railway commissioners", said Cr. Sommers.

Cr. Doug. Grant seconded the motion, with the addendum that copies of the letters be sent to the local members of parliament.

When mention was made of the Altona trains, Cr. Pat Lynch quipped: "They'll probably transfer them to the railway museum at Williamstown".

A little bit of magic in Altona

If Aladdin was to offer his wonder lamp with its mighty genie to Mrs. Pearl Edwards, she wouldn't have much use for them.

She is currently working on a giant bottle which surpasses all the opulence described in the Arabian fairy tales.

Mrs. Edwards, 64, who has lived in Altona for the past 44 years, collects the ingredients for decorating her bottles at trash and treasure sales.

Old brooches, earrings, pearls and rings are taken to bits, and the pieces are stuck on the bottles with waterproof glue.

Then her husband, Robert, fits a long, narrow globe inside the bottle, which can be turned on, and the lamp may be used as an exotic piece of decoration.

The finished product is always different, because Mrs. Edwards sticks her bits of jewellery in a different pattern each time. Sometimes she uses colored glass.

The latest bottle Mrs. Edwards worked on is over 80 years old.

"This one is not for sale," she said. "We like it too much."

The bottles are not her only hobby. She has crocheted at least 100 dresses, prospected for gold in Bendigo, collected opals, rocks and antiques.

A young-looking great-grandmother she is not selfish when it comes to sharing her working secrets. She patiently explains the technique for everything she does.

One picture is made entirely from tacks — Mrs. Edwards enjoys using unusual materials.

Her interest extends to the surroundings of her home, which is a fairy-tale garden complete with imps and well-kept flowers.

Mrs. Edwards, who has never had any training in art, is living proof that the woman who is bored has only herself to blame.

COUNCIL THANKS

Altona Council is sending a letter of appreciation to Mr. H. E. Trieb for his work as a member of the Seaholme Primary School Committee for the past 17 years.

Mr. Trieb, a Seves Street resident, gave outstanding service to the school, and was committee secretary for seven years.

Learning of Mr. Trieb's resignation from the committee Altona councillors last week supported a motion by Cr. Lynch that a letter of thanks be sent.

POPULAR

More than 100 students packed the council gallery for the recent 71st meeting of Altona Junior Council, Cr. Pat Lynch told last week's meeting of Altona Council.

Surfers' honeymoon for Altona couple

Mr. and Mrs. Aldo Madrusan have been honeymooning in Surfers' Paradise following their marriage at St. Mary's, Altona, on March 31.

The bride, formerly Miss Barbara Hall, is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hall, of Pollard Court, Altona.

The groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Mario Madrusan, of Maidstone Street, Altona West.

Barbara wore a gown of white crepe and a crystal nylon coat with gu-pure lace edging, which she made herself. Her veil was full-length, she wore a head-dress of lily of the valley and carried a bouquet of frangipani.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Wendy Hayes, the bride's sister, and the bridesmaid was Miss Grace Madrusan, sister of the groom. Flowergirl was Annette Hayes. They all wore flock nylon dresses, made by the bride, and carried matching bouquets.

Best man was Mr. Ron Coleman and the groomsmen was Mr. Mitch Muskurca.

After the ceremony, more than 120 guests attended a reception at Talbot Receptions, Williamstown.

LAWYERS LASH OUT AT COURT DELAYS

The Western Suburbs Law Association is concerned about the long delays in district Magistrates' Courts.

The president of the Association, Mr. Pat Cannon, said this yesterday.

The association represents solicitors practising in Footscray, Williamstown, Altona, Werribee and Sunshine.

Mr. Cannon said civil litigants, people on police summonses, witnesses, police and lawyers faced ever-increasing and frustrating delays at courts.

Footscray Court recently had more than 100 police matters listed on one day.

A week earlier, Sunshine Court had almost 200 listed on one day — and cases against only 51 of the 70 defendants were completed.

Mr. Cannon said the position was even worse in civil jurisdiction, in which magistrates do not have the help of justices of the peace.

"Cases are seldom heard on the first date fixed for the hearing," he said.

Mr. Cannon said the problem was affecting all types of cases, including deserted wives seeking maintenance and car owners seeking costs of repairs arising from car accidents.

At Sunshine Court, civil cases have had to wait up to five months before being heard and completed.

The earliest a civil case could be heard was two months ahead.

Mr. Cannon said Parliament was currently considering a Bill which would extend the jurisdiction of off than other areas of Melbourne.

He said: "Each week, Sunshine, with a population of 76,000, has only three court days, whereas Malvern, with a population of 52,600, has three, and Box Hill, with a population of 56,700, has four."

Mr. Cannon's association made representations to the Attorney-General last November and again in March.

The Attorney-General advised the association last year that investigations were being made into the staffing of courts and finance had been sought for the appointment of additional magistrates.

But six months later the situation is growing worse.

Mr. Cannon said the total cost to the community in terms of man hours lost by the Victorian Police Force would pay the salaries of 30 more magistrates.

"The public is also penalised by the increased costs of litigation," he added.

COUNCIL WILL LISTEN TO HISTORIANS

Altona Council has agreed to meet a deputation from Altona Historical Society to discuss the society's request for more space in the Homestead; to exhibit museum pieces.

In a letter to council, society secretary, Mr. A. J. Clark said: "At our last meeting, the lack of space to exhibit our material was discussed."

"We request that the general purposes committee of council receive a deputation of three, namely Messrs. Bond, Ross and myself, to hear our proposal for obtaining some more of the homestead for our museum."

"Briefly we submit that we take over the present waiting room of the Dental Clinic which adjoins our room and that the western foyer in which the dental room is situated becomes the new waiting room," said Mr. Clark.

Altona Council will receive the deputation at a future general purposes committee meeting.

SUPPORT FROM MLC

The MLC for Melbourne West, Mr. Alex Knight is supporting Altona Council's representations to the Minister for Local Government, for additional funds for the sewerage of Altona.

In a letter to council, Mr. Knight said: "I will make the necessary representations in line with your request that more monies be allocated to improve sewerage works within the municipality. When I hear further, I shall advise you accordingly."

The letter was noted by council.

Comedy — it's no joke

Internationally acclaimed comedian, Mal Meikle, was guest speaker at the last meeting of the Westgate Diners' Club.

Mr. Meikle, advertising manager of Westgate Publications, discussed "No Business Like Show Business" — with a slight variation.

He detailed why telling jokes is not a laughing matter.

Mal told members comedy — whilst it is a joke — is a "tough business."

"The toughest in entertainment terms," he said. "An entertainer like a juggler, an acrobat or a magician can spend years developing a great skill. But having done so, that is all that's asked of him."

"He can go on indefinitely, exploiting that skill without being expected to turn on a new miracle at every performance. A singer can sing the same songs over and over again — even rating special applause at times when it becomes identified," he said.

But the comic ...?

"Pity the poor comic," he sighed. "He is expected to find it, produce it, 'kill' us with it, then toss it out and find something just as good."

"So you see, comedy is no more — no less — than selling."

Mal added that Australians generally, are offended by such joke-telling topics as religion, football and politics. He used the following example:

"Young kid had three new-born Liberal kittens. Three weeks later he was asked how his Liberal kittens were. He said 'they're not Liberal kittens — they're Labor.' The gent said 'but three weeks ago they were Liberal.' The boy answered, 'Yeah, but that's before they got their eyes opened.'"

Altona Council has accepted an invitation by the Finnish Society of Melbourne to be represented at the opening ceremony of the annual cultural and sports festival organised by the Australasian Federation of Finnish Societies and Clubs.

The opening ceremony will be held at Altona North High School.

LAND VALUE TAXATION SUPPORTED

The case for land value taxation is stated in a letter to the Advertiser from Mr. J. H. Morris, of Hardware Street, Melbourne. He writes:

With land prices escalating to alarming levels, the case for land value taxation acquires further cogency.

Land value taxation has the twin merits of bringing more land into use and reducing the market price of all land.

Taxing land and not buildings, as in site value rating, encourages better standards of construction, higher standards of maintenance and superior design.

The community automatically benefits from the increases in land values resulting from public improvements, as land would be revalued at regular intervals.

The land value tax just cannot be ultimately shifted forward to the poor, the industrious, the consumer or any other group of people who are not landowners.

By easing the land market into action, the land tax makes the assembly of large sites for modern development far easier and the need to invoke powers of compulsory purchase would decline.

Land value taxation is good for the builder, the developer, and the estate agent, because it increases the velocity of construction.

Revenue from land values would make possible the elimination or reduction of many current anti-social taxes and imposts.

Land value taxation is the only satisfactory answer to the problem of the high cost of home sites and the only satisfactory basis for establishing new cities.

It has a unique ethical basis, in that it is based on the presence and activity of the people as a whole and is therefore an appropriate source for community revenue.

VAN WITH AIR OF PRESTIGE

The Toyota Corolla 8 cwt. panel van has always been an extremely popular vehicle with tradesmen who require a light van with an air of prestige—users like florists and small shopkeepers—and they found it ideal for their type of work.

Now an updated 1972 version is available and reaching the showrooms this week.

Its very complete equipment includes a steering lock, individual seats, heater, flow-through ventilation, collapsible steering column and the same exterior trim, radiator grille and other parts as the latest 1973 Corolla passenger car and new four-door wagon.

One of the Corolla 8 cwt van's hidden advantages is the one-piece steel construction of the loading floor. It is particularly easy to clean if a messy load has been carried.

The 8 cwt load rear compartment measures 5 ft. 3 in. long, 4 ft. 1 in. wide and 2 ft. 7 in. high, giving a total volume of 55 cubic feet. The overall vehicle length is 13 ft. 1.1 in., width 4 ft. 11.3 in. and height 4 ft. 7.3 in. The front suspension is independent and special progressive heavy-duty springs are fitted at the rear.

The high-camshaft four-cylinder 1166 cc Toyota engine is a lusty puller delivering 74.5 ft/lb. of torque at 3800 rpm and 73 bhp at 6000. An outstandingly economical unit, it drives through a four-speed all-synchromesh gearbox and the final axle ratio is 4.44 to 1. Tyres are 6.00-12 in., six-ply rating.

The price, complete, is $2299.

Concert for pensioners

The Williamstown branch of the Combined Pensioners Association will be given a concert on Friday, April 27 at 2 p.m. in the Williamstown Youth Centre.

The concert party is to be brought to Williamstown by Mrs. A. Fletcher, MBE, JP who is a friend of the local branch and also connected with the Yarraville Elderly Citizens.

Interested people, or intending new members can contact the secretary, Mr. Jack Dean at 22 Hosking Street, or phone 397 6493.

please note
increased benefits, increased contributions.

NURSING HOME BENEFITS

By authority of the Victorian Government a new Approved Nursing Home Benefit is available to all HBA Contributors from January 1, 1973. This benefit covers payment of up to $22.40 per week, to non-Pensioner Medical Service patients in Approved Nursing Homes, for an unlimited period of time. To permit the provision of this new benefit, the contribution rate for Hospital Benefits has been increased by 3 cents per week for a single person and 6 cents per week for a family, to be paid from May 1973.

MEDICAL BENEFITS

Also from May 1, by authority of the Federal Minister of Social Security, weekly contributions for medical benefits will be increased by 10 cents per week for a single person, 20 cents per week for a family. This increase is essential, as payments to Contributors, plus administration, has exceeded Contributions by over $9 million since July 1 1969, and as at this date the Medical Fund has an accumulated deficit of approximately $4 million. There are now no Reserves in the Medical Fund.

Things are looking up for Sunshine

By LAURIE SCHWAB

Sunshine City may field promising Scottish recruit Brian Craig in the Metropolitan League match of the day against Mooroolbark at Gardens Reserve, Sunshine on Saturday.

Craig, 20, is a striker from Hamilton Academicals, the club that Sunshine's ace linkman Jim McRobert used to play for.

Craig also had a spell on loan with Bo'ness United in Saturday Scotland.

At publication time, Sunshine City was still waiting for Craig's clearance to arrive.

The tall forward will greatly enhance Sunshine's hopes of gaining promotion to State League this season.

Last week it beat Yallourn 2-1 but could have won by at least five goals.

John Irvine, the former Slavia player, and McRobert scored the goals.

McRobert had a ball last Sunday, scoring 10 goals against Ascot United reserves in the District League West competition.

Mick Bañagan, who has resumed training and should soon be back in the senior team, netted six in Sunshine's 19-0 victory.

After overcoming early difficulties, Sunshine has now set out on the promotion trail and should be too good for the overrated Mooroolbark on Saturday.

St. Albans fans will be out in force at Churchill Reserve on Saturday for the clash between neighbors Kellor City and Ajax.

Kellor is favored to win, as Ajax is nowhere near the form it showed last year.

Last Saturday, Kellor managed a 1-1 draw with Altona despite the absence of four star players, including coach Kazik Klain who has a bad leg injury.

Altona however, was unlucky to lose as it had a number of shots cleared off the line late in the game.

Goals were scored by Tony Hamill for Altona and George Nierobicz for Kellor.

Stars were Altona's Robert Gramsberger and Kellor's Guenter Gerick.

Last week I wrote that Altona officials were upset over the fact that coach Joe Deguarda played eight defenders and left out a number of juniors.

To set the record straight, the complaints came from only one official, not a number of them.

Nevertheless the criticism had a basis in fact if last week's match was any indication.

This week, Altona travels to Springvale and should come away with both points.

Western suburbs should be untroubled to beat Yallourn at Castley Reserve, Sunshine, but St. Albans may have to be content with a draw when it plays Ringwood United away.

State League

Strengthened by Irish linkman Paul Murphy whose clearance arrived only four hours before last weekend's match against Melbourne, George Cross should beat Hellas at Middle Park on Sunday.

Rothmans Medallist John Gardiner is back after having declared that he would not play again, and with Murphy as his deputy, he should monopolize the midfield.

Hellas' key linkman Peter Bourne is completely out of touch and I doubt that Ian Marshall can do the job on his own.

Former national team striker Jim Armstrong is also below form, as is David Gorrie, whereas the Cross' Joe Cunningham is playing so well that he will be among the league's leading scorers this season.

Footscray J.U.S.T., now holding top place on the ladder, should retain it by beating Hakoah at Schintler Reserve on Sunday.

Footscray's brilliant forwards have not clicked yet but it's only a matter of time.

If the team can keep winning narrowly, it will be in a good position when its two Danish recruits arrive.

Polonia which had its first win against Box Hill last week looks incapable of cracking the powerful Slavia defence and is

Presenting VW's new 'Superbug'

Volkswagen's Superbug for 1973 has the most dramatic styling changes since the familiar "Beetle" first came to Australia almost 20 years ago.

A new curved windshield, completely redesigned dashboard, restyled front and rear fenders and lights all add up to a Superbug that is easily distinguishable from past Bugs—but still recognisable as the latest version of the car that holds the record as the most-produced vehicle in automotive history.

The windshield, the most noticeable feature of the 1973 Superbug, slopes gently down from the roofline, adding to the car's interior space. Overall, the windshield is 42 per cent. bigger.

Behind the windshield is the heavily padded, all-new dash.

● The dashboard area has been completely redesigned, creating more interior space, functional rocker switch controls and greater safety.

Rocker switches replace the familiar knobs and a redesigned glove compartment features two-level storage for maps and other small articles.

The flow-through ventilation system has been improved to provide greater air flow and more even distribution.

Defroster outlets now run the entire width of the windshield and fresh air outlets have been lowered to improve driver and passenger comfort.

Another easily noticeable change on the Superbug is the enlarged circular tail-light complex, combining reversing, stop and turn functions.

In the Volkswagen tradition, many of the changes are hidden behind the engine compartment lid. For example, you will find a more durable clutch that requires less pressure to operate, and softer transmission mountings for more interior quiet. Easier cold-weather starts will result from improved intake air pre-heating.

BACK FROM GERMANY

Altona North High School student, Margaret Ostrovskis recently returned to Australia after three months in Germany on a study tour.

Margaret was chosen from 30 Australian students who applied for the opportunity to attend a school in Germany. Last week, Margaret, along with her parents and school principal, Mr. Roy Roberts, was a guest of Altona Council. She was presented with a Certificate of Merit by the Mayor, Cr. Harry Weaver.

Margaret told the council meeting she lived with a foster family in Germany and found school very different to the schools in Australia.

"Children over the age of 16 were allowed to smoke and there were no clubs, no assemblies and no uniforms," said Margaret.

"But the schools there are not places where one could form a lasting friendship," she added. "There's nothing really to bind the students together".

Other guests at the council meeting included the president and coach of the Altona Pirouette Synchronised Swimming Club and members of the club team which recently had success at the national titles in Sydney.

Curtain rises on LITTLE THEATRE

The Williamstown Little Theatre's season for Eden House will run for 12 nights.

In the past, the theatre has always played on consecutive nights for this show, the season will be broken up over a three week period to allow cast and theatre staff a rest.

It will also give theatre patrons a wider choice of "end-of-the-week" nights.

The season will run from Wednesday, May 2 to Saturday, May 5, then on Wednesday, May 9 to Saturday, May 12 and finally from Wednesday, May 16 to Saturday, May 19.

Bookings will open at M. S. Marr's Music Shop, 49 Ferguson Street, on April 24.

Party bookings are progressing well, but there will be good seats available at the shop.

Hal Porter's "Eden House" will appeal to people who like a play that is well written and more demanding than the usual drawing room comedy.

Elizabeth Young from Heidelberg and Viaduct Theatre will head the cast. The others have all played at Williamstown before.

They are: Bernadette Twomey, Jo White, Christine Saunders, Gary Cameron, Graham Murdoch, David Bradshaw and Alison McWilliams.

Lorna Kirkwood-Jones, one of Melbourne's leading producers will direct this play.

New use for campervan

Many housewives are using their husbands weekend campervans for week-day shopping.

The use of campervans as a family's second car has been a marked side effect of the fast expanding industry.

According to Toyota campervan distributor, the Stewart Car Co., many wives regard it as a definite advantage as they can store perishables in the van's refrigerator while they are shopping.

They have specially designed storage space for groceries and parcels which are invariably a problem on the seat of a normal sedan.

Stewart's managing director, Mr. Laurie Stewart, said this week most buyers regarded the externally-compact holiday home as a second, and sometimes the family's only, car.

"Modern campervans were fast gaining popularity on traditional caravan-car combinations which were harder to age and store," said Mr. Stewart.

"However, unlike many campervans, built on the back of utilities and which gained their interior space through height, the Toyota could be parked in the average family garage."

Engineers have constantly developed the vehicle since its inception.

SWING HANDS HIGH ON BACKSWING

If you can swing (I did not say "lift") your hands well above your shoulders on your backswing, you will put yourself into excellent position to strike the ball squarely and with good force.

If your hands do not move high (illustration #1), you are turning your shoulder on too-level a plane.

Make sure your left shoulder moves down and under your chin, as mine is doing in illustration #2. This will give you the high-hands position you should seek. It will help you keep your left arm straight and give you a full coiling, or stretching, of muscles on your backswing.

METHODISTS DOWN TO ALTONA

Altona Central had a comfortable win over Wililamstown Methodist, in Saturday's football round.

Methodist won the toss, at Langshaw Reserve, and started toward the Mason street end, utilising a strong wind example.

was realised from the bounce the wind would provide a good kicking for Methodists. seemed obvious also getting to the ball would be a major victory. both teams appeared to be the follow up power wing the advantage of pick-up or mark. Central's solid backline, led by young Ray Meddings with the dashing Angie Vassilides, repelled attack after attack by Methodist, however, despite good play putting them in a scoring position. This defence almost completely nullified Methodist's advantage. In the second term, Central's solid backline, who found they could not take full advantage of the still-strong wind. Big Mischa's hit outs were not taken up. Players were not taking the ball from the packs and Central's forward line was not functioning properly. The term was marked by Central's forwards kicking badly toward the goals. Methodist went straight into attack with the opening of the third term. But again pressure from Central's back line caused inaccurate kicking.

Methodists posted 4.9 for the quarter.

In a, hard-fought and hectic last term, fitness showed out and Centrals were able to win the game by a narrow margin.

Final scores:

ALTONA CENTRALS — 16.11 — 107

WILLI. METHODISTS — 14.17 — 81

Best: Altona Central — Ray Meddings (best on ground), J. Mampbell, M. Lawson, D. Grey, K. Gilchrist, A. Vassilides.

In the second division game, Central had a comfortable win over Newport Methodists, with the final scores at 20.23 against 4.7.

Best Altona players were L. Cooke, I. Baxton, M. Kizan, D. Kokosche, R. Sands.

The special effort was won by Mrs. I. Stewart, 27 Carlyne Street, Maidstone.
